Cozy Mysteries: A Twist Of The Craft Knife (Whistler's Cove Cozy Mystery Series Book 3)

Synopsis

Whistler's Cove is about to play host to a grand society wedding, the coming together of Vince Taylor and Francine Frazer. But when a visitor to the little town is murdered, all signs point to the groom being guilty, and he's arrested just days before the spectacular event. The trouble is, the owner of the local teahouse- Misty Williams- had a lot riding on that wedding, and now she stands to lose both her business and her boyfriend if it doesn't go ahead. So Misty must turn amateur sleuth to prove her hunch that the groom is innocent, and free him from prison to make sure the wedding takes place. This humorous cozy mystery can be read as part of the Whistler's Cove series or as a stand-alone story. All the town's most popular characters are involved again: Miss Mabel- that shy teahouse cat, Martha Johnstone- gossip extraordinaire, the amusing old men who spend their days playing checkers, and all the artists and crafters who make up Whistler's Cove's vibrant community. So come on in and enjoy the fun!

Customer Reviews

There were several errors in the book, and some grammatical issues, but it was a fun read. This really isn't a novel, but it is longer than a short story. I would probably characterize it as a novella. This series is fun to read, but I always feel like the story goes too fast.

Complex, this isn't, but it's what I consider a good "beach read." (Those types that don't keep you so involved that you can't remember to flip over to get some sun on the other side.) Fun with a sense of humor, even finding dead bodies.

The ending was totally unexpected. I loved how the murderer was revealed. I actually gasped out loud when it happened.

Authors need to use proof-readers more to find mistakes. This book had way too many!
